

```
--1. copying from one table to another
--2. In English: Put the department average sales in a
--3. new table named table4 select [dept name] as Department,
    sum([sales amount])/count([Sales Person]) as Average
into table4
from table_2
group by [dept name]

--4. line below gets rid of the table from the database
drop table table4

--5. line below runs once the table is copied out, but before
--    it's dropped again
select * from table4
```